Poster 1 - Lecture Hall Paolo Budinich (3:20 PM - 5:30 PM)

[id] title	presenter	board
[53] A sensitive period for morphology? Morphosyntactic feature retrieval in bilinguals	BOSCH, Sina
[61] How Finnish morphology can confuse the L2-speaker	BERTRAM, Raymond SALMELA, Rosa
[64] Is prefix identification position-specific?	CARDEN, Julia
[67] Inflectional regularity and gender in agreement processing: evidence from Russian	SLIOUSSAR, Natalia SHILIN, Pavel
[69] Challenging late vocabulary insertion: Evidence from Russian	MAGOMEDOVA, Varvara
[21] The suffix priming effect in children: A developmental perspective	Prof. LÁZARO, Miguel
[46] Derivational depth and the role of the lexicon in morphological decomposition	LAHIRI, Aditi SCHUSTER, Swetlana
[44] Contemporary French morphology trends: A case-study of formal neologisms in newspapers monitor corpora	CARTIER, Emmanuel
[43] Simple event nominals do (not) exist in Serbian: Theoretical and empirical evidence	RADMAN, Sanja
[4] Dissociating derivational and inflectional priming: Evidence from older bilinguals	REIFEGERSTE, Jana
[59] Implicit and explicit morphological awareness: Insight from developmental trajectories and implications for future research	NICHOLLS, Hannah-Leigh
[14] Do all complex words have the same degree of complexity?	PINTO, Carina
[17] Does working memory have an impact on second language processing of inflection: The case of English past tense morphology	RIZAOĞLU, Filiz
[57] The interference of animacy in the processing of morphological number	FRANZON, Francesca
[51] Reading complex words in Hebrew as a non-concatenative language	OGANYAN, Marina
[35] Grammatical category in the neural representation of derived forms: Evidence from Italian.	CAROTA, Francesca
[34] Do morphological features of different deverbal nominals affect their reading?	GATARIĆ, Isidora
[55] Morphological processing interacts with form priming	ZHOU, Beinan KOTZOR, Sandra
[31] Semantic transparency affects morphological priming…eventually	HEYER, Vera
[50] Comparison of sensitivity to case violations across native and nonnative speakers of Turkish	KARATAS, Basak GOR, Kira
